Frequently asked questions

When will I see the changes on my invoice from Xero?

The price changes take effect from 2 June and will show on invoices from this date onwards. The change-over invoices will likely have two lines – the period up to the price change and the period after the change.

Is the price change prorated?

Yes, the pricing change is effective for existing and new plans from 2 June and will be prorated on your next invoice.

I have a discount or promo code from Xero. Will it be retained?

If Xero has provided a current discount or promo code, it will be applied to the new pricing from 2 June until the code expires.

If there's another Xero plan that works better for me, can I change?

Yes, you can upgrade or downgrade from My Xero and your pricing plan will automatically change. Please note that you can only downgrade your pricing plan once every 30 days.

I am on the Business Booster plan. How does this affect me?

Providing you don't pay more than one employee, you will not be affected. As per the terms and conditions of the Business Booster plan, if you use payroll for more than one employee you will no longer be entitled to the plan.

Can I have a customised plan?

We've developed our plans based on the core needs of our different customer groups. We offer variations of our premium plan to provide the flexibility to only pay for what you use. We're always listening to our customers so please add your vote to the feature requests in the Xero Community.

I get a discount via a Xero partner. What will my monthly charge be?

Xero doesn't set the fees that Xero partners charge their clients. Please speak to your Xero partner for more information.

Are the prices inclusive of GST?

Yes, Xero pricing is inclusive of GST.

Are not-for-profit organisations still eligible for a 25% discount?

Yes, not-for-profits continue to be eligible for the 25% discount.
